

EL SOBRANTE LIBRARY TO CELEBRATE 5 YEARS SINCE RISING FROM ASHES

Posted on November 20, 2024 by OAKLAND POST

After being ravaged by a fire in 2018, the El Sobrante Library rose from the ashes and reopened to the public the following year on Sept. 19, 2019. In honor of that milestone, library officials will host the "Fifth Birthday" of the remodeled space from 1-3:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 23. The post El Sobrante Library to Celebrate 5 Years Since Rising from Ashes first appeared on Post News Group.

Categories: #NNPA BlackPress, Black News, Community, Featured, Featured, National, NNPA, NNPA Newswire

Tags: activities for all ages, commemorative button-making, Community, crafts, Entertainment, Events, face painting, Family, featured, kung fu performance, lion dance, Local, local author book display, Oakland Post, party, Post News Group, Richmond, the "Fifth Birthday", the El Sobrante Library, The Richmond Standard

By Carla Thomas

The Oakland Citizens Committee for Urban Renewal (OCCUR) hosted its Faith Forward 2024 Conference on Nov. 8 at Resurrection Church in Oakland.

The conference featured Congresswoman-elect Lateefah Simon, who will begin her term representing California's 12th Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives in January.

Simon was honored with a special recognition from OCCUR for her civic and nonprofit leadership. During her remarks, She commended nonprofits making a difference, and shared how she looked forward to representing Oakland and surrounding areas.

Simon also encouraged attendees to continue fighting despite their concerns about the presidential election results. She also cautioned that there may be resources that are discontinued as a result.

"We know the assignment. We have many of the resources right within our own community, and we will be ok," Simon assured the audience.

The conference led by OCCUR president, Dr. David B. Franklin, also featured panels on funding opportunities, case studies, economic development, sustainable housing solutions, and organizing for action.

"In order for organizations serving the community to thrive, everyone must collaborate, share resources, and not operate in silos," said Franklin.

Speakers included San Francisco Foundation CEO, Fred Blackwell, San Francisco Foundation FAITHS Program Director Dr. Michelle Chambers, and Kingmakers of Oakland Founder, Chris Chatmon. Guests were briefed on how Kingmakers of Oakland has gone from a budget of zero to several million and is set to acquire 200 acres of property to expand their programs serving young boys. The leadership at the San Francisco Foundation encouraged nonprofits, churches, and community leaders to work together, especially when donations and funding numbers are lower.

Willie Howard Mays: “Simply the Best”

Mayor London N. Breed issued the following statement on the passing of Willie Mays:

Oakland Post

Where there is no vision, the people perish... Proverbs 29:18

Trending

Oakland Post: Week of June 19 – 25, 2024

Ben Bartlett of Berkeley City Council; Trevor Parham, CEO of Oakstop; and CEO of the Lao Family Community Development, Inc., Kathy Chao Rothberg, inspired attendees with stories about their journeys in the nonprofit sector.

Additional speakers included Deka Dike, CEO of Omatachi; Landis Green, CEO of DGS Strategies; Sasha Werblin, Director of Economic Development, LISC Bay Area; Oakland City Councilmember Treva Reid; Faith and Justice Organizer of East Bay Housing Organizations, Ronnie Boyd; and Todd Bendon, Executive Director of Faith in Action East Bay; among others.

The event allowed community leaders, faith-based leaders, and nonprofits to gain insight on how to strengthen their profits financially, and communally.

OCCUR has served the community for over 70 years supporting the wellbeing of historically marginalized communities with collaborative strategies. For more information visit occurnow.org

Oakland Post

There are no comments yet.